23 Things To Do Before You Are 11 1/2: A Practical Step-by-step Guide For Things To Make In Your Backyard

Synopsis

An essential guide to activities a child can enjoy with their parents or grandparents. From understanding basic woodworking skills to constructing a kite, the reader will also learn about the science and eco side of invention. Activities are broken down into easy steps and technical information comes alive in bite-size facts. Dare-devils can make stilts, a rope ladder, and even a go-cart! Budding adventurers will learn how to put together a survival bag, campfire and fishing net. Aspiring conservationists can build their own bird nesting box and wormery. Outdoor activities have never been such fun, and if it's raining there are plenty of other fun things to do!

Customer Reviews

This is a great book full of easy to follow step-by-step instruction for DIY projects. This is perfect for the Girl Scout or Boy Scout in your life but it is also good for any child who loves getting their hands dirty and learning some fun things to make all by themselves. We haven't tried any projects yet but have Spring time plans for a few of them. I love how they cover so many different things from tying knots to creating a secret book safe right inside your own book. Each project breaks down your supply list, photo illustrations and a description of each step. The writers do state that most of these projects can be done by an 11 1/2 year old but as a parent I would use my own judgement as their are power tools involved in some. Disclaimer: I received a complimentary copy. No monetary compensation was offered or received.
